Name	ANZAC Day Trust
Act or instrument	ANZAC Day Act 1995
Functions	Legislation was passed in 1965 that allowed places of public entertainment and amusement to trade on the afternoon and evening of ANZAC Day. This signalled the end of an era in which ANZAC Day was a 'closed day' and business trading was very restricted. The Parliament of the day was optimistic that in return for the bonus of extra trading hours on ANZAC Day, those businesses which benefited would donate to the ANZAC Day Trust Fund. The fund was established under the same legislation and provides funding, on application, to organisations offering financial assistance and relief to ex-service men and women and their dependents. The annual disbursement of the trust fund to over 200 ex-service organisations supports: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • aged and infirm veterans wishing to remain in their own homes; • maintenance of essential services; • the construction and maintenance of homes/units for war veterans; and • many other services such as advocacy, hospital visits, food hampers and gift/amenities parcels for the sick. An annual appeal for donations each April begins with a mail out targeting those businesses providing public entertainment and amusement. However, the main source of funds continues to be an annual grant provided by the Queensland Government.
Achievements	In 2019–20, payments totalling $1,577,849.00 were disbursed to 216 applicant ex-service organisations. In 2018-19, 199 organisations benefitted. Preliminary indications are that disbursements will be given to more than 200 organisations in 2020–21.
